Seven Minute Safeguarding

MARU

We use the acronym MARU regularly in Safeguarding but what does it stand for and what do they do?

What is MARU?

MARU stands for Multi-Agency Referral Unit and is a department within the Council. It is the single point of contact for raising concerns about the safety or welfare of a child in Cornwall. The MARU provides a multi-disciplinary response to concerns about the welfare or safety of a child or young person in line with statutory guidance. They are also able to offer advice to professionals regarding the safeguarding of children.

In some counties they may use the acronym MASH (Multi-Agency Support Hub)

Who can contact MARU and why?
Anyone who has a concern relating to the wellbeing of a child can call MARU and speak to one of the duty Social Workers. They will offer advice to professionals about how to best deal with a case in the setting or may decide that it requires further investigation and support from a Social Worker. Members of the public may anonymously report concerns pertaining to the well-being of a child. These are then followed up by a social worker.

Do MARU only refer families to Social Workers?
No. The MARU will try to help by signposting professionals and families to the service that can best help meet the child's needs. Sometimes they will recommend a referral to the Early Help Hub (EHH) and they will complete an Early Help assessment. The EHH provide support for a whole range of things including, but not limited to: CAHMS, Parenting support, Family Conferencing, SALT, School Nurse and Health Visitors.

What you may be concerned about involving our services, we do more than check up on children and young people's welfare.

If a family is struggling, we can organise early help and support for them, before any problems become harder to solve.

What information do I need to give?
The more detail you can give us, the better we will be able to help.
If you have concerns about something wrong, either directly with the child, or about the child's welfare, or other people that know the family, please share this with us, and your knowledge helps us to solve missing information that can help.

Together for Families

In the first instance of any safeguarding concerns in school, you must speak to the DSL or DDSL.
