

H	O	L	E	S
Compose a poem, song or rap that retells the story, and present it. Can you use digital technology to help you?	Create a movie trailer script for your novel. Consider what actors you would have for each character, and where you would film it.	Create an epilogue for the novel. Include any further information that you would like to know about the characters.	Create a time line to show the sequence of events that led to a conclusion.	Create 5 letters from the point of view of one of the boys. Each letter should talk about significant events from the point of view of that character.
Create a Venn diagram or other graphic to compare the movie and book. Make sure you include characters, setting, order of events and information in your design.	Create a story cube for one of the main characters, analysing their development as a character.	Take a chapter or scene and rewrite it from the point of view of another character.	Bring or create items related to the story and make a written explanation of their relationship to the story, characters, etc.	Pretend you are a newspaper reporter and write an article or editorial about Camp Green lake and the it was run.
Create a private and secure blog, wiki, twitter feed, website or similar as if created by one of the characters in the book. Encourage your class to leave comments as though they are different characters.	Pick your favourite character and as that character retell a specific event that happened in the novel.	Create a diorama of one of the scenes from the book. Be ready to justify why you chose that scene.	Write an obituary for either Stanley or Zero from the point of view of one of the boys from Camp D after they have gone missing.	Create a missing person poster for Zero or Stanley.